Commission Report . . .

Hearing Set On Zoning

A public hearing of recommendations for city zoning has been called for 5 p.m. Monday, March 10, at City Hall.

The zoning code recommendations are the result of 6 weeks of twice weekly meetings by the City Council appointed Zoning Commission. The recommended ordinance will be similar to one adopted in recent years by Brenham. It is a requirement for Urban Renewal approval, and would effect only new building or future major remodeling of existing buildings.

The code would set up 5 zoning districts:

1. Residential 1—strictly private homes in a designated area from Jackson Street east.
2. Residential 2—remaining residential areas which will be restricted to neighborhood type businesses, homes and schools.

Boy Slips Through Window Bars In Escape; Captured

A Copperas Cove youth forced an opening in window bars at the Milam County jail Sunday and escaped by descending a pipe on the west side of the jail.

He was arrested in Temple Tuesday afternoon and returned to the Milam jail by Sheriff officers on Wednesday.

Sheriff Carl Black said Fain Davenport, Jr., 18, had escaped shortly after 11 a.m. while he (Black) was attending church services. He said the prisoners were all in the exercise room of the 2nd floor jail quarters when Davenport climbed to the balcony and broke out the west window in the jail tower.

Black said Davenport was of slight build, about 5 ft. tall and about 100 pounds, small enough to crawl between the bars.

He has been in the county jail since February when he was charged in district court with the theft of a pickup from Adolph Gresak.

ed to neighborhood type businesses, homes and schools.

3. Business—including only the downtown area.

4. Commercial—taking in highway type businesses where more space is required.

5. Industrial—area surrounding the present industrial site which would be strictly for factory or production type buildings.

The recommended code also limits its animals in the city limits to household pets; establishes minimum lot sizes according to the zone designation; sets parking space requirements; puts limits on building heights at 2½ floors or 45 feet tall for residential and 3 floors (except by special Council permission) for business, commercial and industrial districts. The recommendations also set minimum ground frontage requirements for commercial buildings.

Another section in the Zoning Commission recommendations asks that the City Council appoint a qualified building inspector to check new or major remodeling projects within city jurisdiction. Presently the task of checking building standards is left up to the city secretary.

Miss Mildred Thornton, Commission member, pointed out that the zoning code was intended to set guidelines for a more uniform appearing city in the light of projected growth and modernization of some areas.

APPROVAL SEEN FOR NORTH SITE

The City Council Tuesday heard the first of two readings of an ordinance annexing 485.36 acres of land which will extend Cameron's north city limits. The second reading and final approval will be at the Council's next regular meeting in April.

A request for the Council to consider fluoridation of the city water was presented by Dr. George Bowman, a Cameron dentist, and a tentative starting date for street paving was set.

Approval of the extension ordinance was unanimous, with Councilmen Lester Turner, Robert Clark, Starrett Hickman, and Lawrence Zolt voting. Councilman R. W. Wells was not at the meeting.

No changes were made in the original annexation proposal first considered by the Council in December. A public hearing on February 19 heard petitions to the Council from about ten of the property owners who will be affected by the annexation.

The land taken in by the limits extension will include the area beginning at the intersection of West 22nd and Fannin Streets, north along Silver City Road to a point at the northeast boundary of City Airport property, west across Highway 77 to the western limits of Southern Pacific Railroad property, south to the point intersecting western city limits, and south to the present city limits boundary on West 22nd Street (Dump Ground Road).

Dr. Bowman, local dentist, asked the Council to take under consideration the addition of fluorides to the city water to bring the fluoride level up to the optimum required to reduce tooth decay. He cited the fact that children who live in cities where the water contains the proper fluoride level have just half as many cavities as those who do not.

Bowman added that the State Health Department said equipment needed for adding fluoride to the city water will cost about $500 and the chemicals will cost less than $200 a year, which would be about three cents per capita.

Mayor E. A. Perrin asked that comments or questions on fluoridation be directed to the City Council or the Herald.

The Council also discussed paving work on 6th and 7th Streets, where curbing, utility line, and grading work is being completed. Paving should begin in mid-March. Also, councilmen discussed the prospect of surveying the remainder of streets in the paving program during March.

In other business City Works Manager J. B. Earle reported that water and sewer service to the industrial site was near completion. Earle said waterlines were complete and sewerlines will be ready for hookup in a few days.

City Secretary Buddy Fuller said there have been no additional filings for the three places on the City Council. Incumbents Hickman, Zolt, and Clark have filed for places 3, 4, and 5, respectively.

Routine reports were heard from other city departments, and bills were approved.

Blood Program To Be Reviewed At Meet Today

A special community meeting will be held Thursday (this afternoon) at 5 p.m. in Methodist Fellowship Hall to review Cameron's blood program.

All persons in Cameron who are interested in and are active in the blood program are urged to attend. Facets of the program to be discussed include blood quotas, production, recognition, and recruitment.

Red Cross officials at the meeting will include William M. Probes, Waco Chapter manager, and Wallace E. Hopkins, new administrator of the blood program. Sister Aloysius, local blood program chairman and other community leaders will also attend.

After the last Red Cross bloodmobile visit in January Cameron was warned by the Blood Center at Waco that unless the year's quota was brought up at the next bloodmobile visit the city would face possible loss of the blood program. This would mean that when a patient from Cameron needed blood transfusions, it would have to pay full price for the blood instead of a nominal fee for the transfusion.

The meeting is expected to last about one hour.

CONTEXT—Milam County and her people have been, as J. B. Priestly describes novelist Thomas Wolfe, "a giant of the morning."

Milam was a man, Ben Milam, who died a hero at San Antonio, perhaps himself a "giant of the morning." And his namesake county, convulsed with growth in the Civil War era and the arrival at 20th Century's turn of thousands of new peoples.

The pattern was set. Cotton on plantation and sharecropping on small farm were the "die that was cast," even after the die was worn, like our blackland soil, away.

Like Milam, Thomas Wolfe, that "giant of the morning," died at a youthful age, 37, of tuberculosis.

Milam's namesake county, of recent years, grows restive, stirs and knows the strength of enlightenment, sheds a passive shroud and grasps anew a great potential.

And Milam County, alive with new sinew of industry and veins of agri-business, denies pessimism and vitalizes historic strength and finds optimism in continuity and growth.

Wolfe's words, apropos of Milam's reawakening, lend meaning here.

Profound was he in writing: "Man was born to live, to suffer, and to die, and what befalls him is a tragic lot. There is no denying this in the final end. But we must, dear Fox, deny it all along the way."

No Polyanna this, but it is optimistic for the living, which is forever.

Preoccupation with the past can be preoccupation with continuity and growth, which makes the past worth remembering and the present worth knowing and the future worth anticipating. It is most real and eternal that we, as individuals or a people, whether Milam or America, know what we are about is not easy, but inexplicably, worth the effort.

A giant need not die, as we of Milam County are proving, if it adapts its strength to overcome its weakness.

Debate Sparked By Shannon Bill

"Fireworks" were reported going off in last week's session of the 61st Legislature, as Rep. Dan Kubiak told of heated debates on several issues.

The school "law and order" bill introduced by Rep. Joe Shannon passed the House after "two hours and 25 minutes of the strongest type of debate and floor maneuverings," Kubiak said in his weekly newsletter.

"I believe in our youth," Kubiak said, "and feel they are the greatest resource in America and want to provide them with the greatest protection in acquiring an education. Shannon's bill provides (this protection)."

As a member of the Parks and Wildlife committee, Kubiak is studying HB 189, authorizing certain districts to acquire land for park purposes along the river's and lakes of Texas. The bill allows local soil conservation districts to develop, finance, manage, maintain and develop the use of parks or park systems in that area.

A retirement plan for teachers is being worked out by the Education subcommittee, of which Rep.
Kubiak is a member. The plan will be co-sponsored by Rep. Jack Hawkins of Groesbeck.

Eight Litter Baskets Mark Donations Of Civic Organizations

Eight green painted steel litter baskets are spotted on various poles in downtown Cameron, donated by civic organizations.

Cameron Chamber of Commerce began the project of installing the litter baskets last August. The Chamber civic improvement committee invited clubs and civic groups to donate the baskets and help reduce downtown street cleanup problems.

The two Lions Clubs responded by donating three baskets, and other baskets were given by Civic Garden, Business and Professional Women, Rotary, Delphian, and Fleur de lis Garden Clubs.

Irving School Named For Former CISD Supt. W. T. Hanes

The Irving School Board voted recently to name a new elementary school after Schools Supt. W.
T. Hanes.

Hanes was superintendent of Cameron schools for about ten years during the late '40s and in the '50s.

"That's the highest honor that's ever come to me," Hanes told the board members. The decision came as a surprise to Supt. Hanes.

You Don't Say

GOT MARRIED!

Got means "acquired", "obtained", etc. Would you "acquire" graduated? or acquire "married"?

So obviously "got married" is as incorrect as "got lived" or "got died".

MARRIED is a verb sufficient unto itself and, while used commonly with "got", its use will certainly mark you as one not well versed in grammar.

Microfilm, Maybe? . . .

We hope the County, in a progressive spirit at the Courthouse and at Poor Farm, won't forget the possibility of microfilming county records.

Along these lines, the County has purchased new property maps and plans to update them regularly.

It would be timely, and practical, to view the merit of microfilming all these records for easy access and review.

The County uses an automatic copying machine and other modern copying devices for their records. A microfilm installation would bring modern facility to a peak as county clerk offices are expanded, an elevator is installed and other offices expand in the Courthouse.

All these efforts are most timely and commendatory. It would seem feasible to take a final step to the microfilm route.

The Herald, for example, keeps microfilm records of editions back to 1895, though gaps in editions exist. That microfilm occupies a space about the size of two shoe boxes.

Microfilm gives another protection to the property owners whose records already are quit claimed back to a courthouse fire in the 1870's and who deserve this extra consideration.

If No Need, Take Buildings Down . . .

County commissioners are to be congratulated for calling for bids for two of the buildings at the County Poor Farm.

Would that they could do away with all the structures there, which house so few Milam's elder people these days.

That whole section of town will be improved and the land possibly put to some other use.

The Commissioners' decision to move or dismantle those two buildings suggests the broadening move to literally remove the unnecessary and unsightly buildings that clutter some blocks of Cameron.

Bell County Commissioners closed the Bell Poor Farm completely last week and locked it. There is talk of a mental retardation center there.

Certainly, there is some new use which could be given to Poor Farm property. It is a public disgrace to leave the buildings standing when their only inclination, in the main, is to fall.

From this view, the Commissioners head in the right direction by moving the unused buildings. If no one is housed in those remaining any longer, the Commissioners should pull the rest of them down.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

buy.

I noticed an article in the newspaper on top of a stack I'd been saving to sit on when I go fishing and the ground is damp to avoid getting a cold—astronauts are always coming down with a cold and you'd think the space program with its billions of dollars could afford to buy a few newspapers for them—that reported that the Russians are about to enter the automobile age.

Up to now, most of the cars over there have been owned by the top politicians, well they don't really own them, the government furnishes them free, which is cheaper than owning one, but Russia has announced it's opening up a factory to turn out about 600,000 cars a year and the general public can now get in line to

Of course this is just a drop in the bucket compared with the 9 million cars produced in the U.S. each year, but the trend has set in and I'm afraid it proves Russia isn't as smart as she pretended.

What I mean is, does she know she now has to convince her citizens that Russia invented the traffic jam, the super highway, the clover leaf, air pollution, the traffic accident and the junk pile?

Does Russia know that the more cars the people get hold of the more roads they want, and the more roads they get the more cars they want? And the more cars they get the bigger the headache grows?

Why just the single job of putting up filling stations in Moscow alone will set her space program back ten years. Does she know what it's going to cost to build 10 million miles of highway? What it'll cost to train a million car mechanics? Make that half a million. You can get by with only about half of them trained.

And since most Russians getting cars will be grown, without any previous driving experience, not having had a chance to bump off the reckless ones while they were teen-agers, you can see what the accident rate will be.

I suppose this is not very humanitarian, it may even be against the aims of peaceful co-existence, but frankly I hope the Russians turn out millions of cars clogging all their cities. They're not any better than we are.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

Student, Peace Officers Dominate Capitol Activity

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN—Legislation dealing with peace officers and rebellious students are the dominant bills under consideration by the lawmakers.

Approved by the House was a measure that would provide criminal penalties for anyone involved in violent campus disruptions at both public and private schools throughout the state. Vote on the bill, by Rep. Joe Shannon of Fort Worth, was 135 to 12. It now goes to the Senate for action.

One of the two Negro members in the House, Rep. Curtis Graves of Houston, spoke against the bill saying it was "the kind of legislation that causes a backlash. If this passes, I predict this type of violence may come to our state, and each of us will regret passing it."

A clause in the bill outlawing disruptions by "loud or boisterous conduct" was deleted from the bill after some members said it was ambiguous and feared it might find the same fate as the state's disorderly conduct ordinance.

Last year a three judge panel in Waco ruled the disorderly conduct ordinance unconstitutional for not being specific enough. An appeal was made and the U.S. Supreme Court still is considering the measure.

Several amendments were added to the proposed bill, including one that would bar a student from attending a State-financed or assisted school for two years following three convictions for violation of the act. If a student were convicted twice under the act, he could not receive any State loans. Another amendment assures students taking part in demonstrations the right to peaceful protest.

A trespass bill by Rep. Menton Murray of Harlingen is awaiting action. This bill would make it unlawful for anyone "with a malicious and mischievous intent" to trespass on the property of someone else, including campuses. It now is in the House Committee on Criminal Jurisprudence.

Other bills were filed dealing with law enforcement.

Senate Youth Affairs Committee voted to report favorably to the Senate two bills designed to provide fairer hearings on juvenile offenders, which could include some of the demonstrators—especially at high schools.

One of the proposals would require the court to appoint an attorney to represent a juvenile offender, if the parents cannot afford one. If the judge determines that the parents can afford an attorney, he can require that they get one.

Both of the bills were proposed by Sen. Criss Cole of Houston, who is chairman of the committee. Another measure would require the defense attorney in juvenile actions to furnish transcripts of the trial in case of an appeal.

Sen. Jack Hightower of Vernon introduced a measure to help raise the standards of law enforcement officers.

This bill would give the Commission on Law Enforcement Officers Standards and Education the authority to certify persons as being qualified for police or other law enforcement jobs, and would set minimum standards. After Sept. 1, 1970, all appointive peace officers would be required to meet the educational, training, physical, mental and moral criteria set by the Commission. Elected officers, such as sheriffs and constables would not have to qualify.

MONEY, MONEY, MONEY

With $71.6 million of Gov. Preston Smith's $261.5 million revenue package under constitutional challenge and another $38.5 million source under sharp criticism, Texas' chief executive apparently will be offering some alternative recommendations soon.

Smith told newsmen that if the attorney general holds substantial parts of his program unconstitutional, that is just what he will do.

Atty. Gen Crawford Martin was due to hand down an opinion this week on the validity of diverting permanent school fund-bound land-lease money to current education spending. Most authorities agreed earlier with Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler that the diversion is unconstitutional. Also, few were willing to wager much on the governor's suggestion for raising $38.5 million by a $10 surtax on traffic tickets.

While Smith's tax program drew widespread grumbling, nobody had anything better to offer.

House Speaker Gus Mutscher viewed with "alarm" the governor's all-consumer-tax approach and said he had hoped for a "better balance" with business-consumer levies.

Mutscher outlined ideas for a meeting with his revenue and tax committee and predicted a tax bill "run" in the House about April 6.

Meanwhile, the tax committee held its first full-dress session. Out of seven bills aired, two offered some hope of additional revenue. One would raise an estimated $51 million by increasing the liquor tax 40 cents a fourth-fifths bottle. Another sought to subject Texas-based insurance companies to personal property taxation. The others, in one way or another, would cost the state money by reductions of, or exemptions from, existing levies.

BILLS AND MORE BILLS

Legislators are wading in a pond of bills that soon will pass the 1,000 mark.

Sen. Henry C. Gover of Houston has introduced a resolution directing the Texas Coordinating Board for Colleges and Universities and the University of Texas Board of Regents to enter into negotiations to buy the Baylor College of Medicine at Houston.

A five-man sub-committee of the Higher Education Committee is studying a bill which would do away with the required six-hours of government or political science and six-hours of American or Texas history in Texas colleges. It is proposed by Rep. Don Cavness of Austin.

A proposal to create a statewide library system was sent to a sub-committee by the Senate Committee on State Affairs. Sen. A. M. Aikin of Paris and Senator Hightower are co-sponsors of the bill.

Rep. Joe Salem of Corpus Christi has introduced a resolution asking the House of Representatives to do something about poverty. His proposal calls for a five-man study committee made up of house members Senator Grover also has introduced a bill which would allow the state to aid cities in raising policemen's and firemen's salaries.

A proposal that would permit Texas cities to lend each other police officers in emergencies has come to a subcommittee of the House Urban Affairs Committee. Rep. Felix McDonald of Edinburg is sponsor of the bill.

ASCS

By Alva E. Sanders

The seven-week period for producer sign-up in the 1969 Cotton, Wheat, and Feed Grain Programs has passed midpoint and is edging toward its March 21 deadline.

Although the Milam County ASCS Office will take applications to participate in the farm programs anytime through March 21, producers are urged to file applications as early as possible. The programs are voluntary and farmers sign up for them in order to take part. Sign-up brings into focus crop plans for the year ahead. In short, farmers indicate their intentions to take part in the programs for 1969, including the extent to which they will participate in the wheat and feed grain programs.

Under the feed grain program for 1969, farmers may earn diversion and price-support payments as well as qualify for price-support loans on their corn, barley, and grain sorghum crops.

The wheat program provides diversion payments for reducing acreage below the farm allotment, and price support loans on all the wheat produced on the farm. It also provides marketing certificates to bring returns up to full parity on the part of the wheat crop allocated for domestic use. The cotton program provides price-support payments and loans. Additional details on the commodity programs are available from the Milam County ASCS personnel aiding in sign-up.

BCGPA Urges Organization; Adopts Three-Point Program

The Blackland Cotton and Grain Producers Association is now "a going thing". Dan Fustejovsky, BCGPA president says, "We hope to have representation in all 39 Blackland Counties in the near future", he said.

The BCGPA in its first annual meeting held recently in Hillsboro adopted a three-point program for cotton as follows:

1. A one-price system;
2. A loan level related to the open market;
3. A production adjustment payment until such time as cotton can be competitive on its own in the open market.

The organization also went on record:

Favoring continuance of the 16 million acre national cotton allotment;

Opposing any limitation of payments to producers;

Favoring the $1 per bale promotion program for cotton along with the Cotton Producers Institute program of research and promotion;

Requesting CPI to provide funds for cotton along with the Cotton Producers Institute program of research and promotion;

Requesting CPI to provide funds for cotton root rot research;

Opposing transfer of cotton allotment acres from one production area to another without giving producers in the area access to

Control Mesquite For Better Cattle

A seven-year study by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has demonstrated that cows will stay in better shape and wean heavier calves when pastured on mesquite-controlled ranges.

The project was conducted from 1961 to 1968 on eight 20-acre native grass pastures in the Texas Rolling Plains. Mesquite on four of the pastures was controlled periodically with mechanical and chemical treatments, while the other four pastures were untreated.

Two groups of five 3-year-old cows were selected to graze the four pastures under each treatment in rotation at monthly intervals. Cattle remained in their respective areas at all times except for 60-75-day breeding season each year.

All animals on both areas performed satisfactorily during the entire study. But cows grazing cleared pastures lost less weight in the winter and gained more in the summer than those on mesquite land.

Calves produced on the cleared pastures averaged heavier at weaning than those on the brushy areas.

Forage production also increased on the cleared pastures, the researchers noted. Major improvement was found in plant composition and forage quality on the mesquite-controlled areas.

such acres; Favoring a history trend in determining feed grain bases from acres which were planted to cotton under the old B cotton program; Favoring retention of cotton in the Blacklands as a major crop; BCGPA officials warned that unless cotton farmers in the Blacklands organize, this area "could lose cotton completely." They also warned that attempts will be made to get payment limitations on farmers.

"The vast majority of farmers in the Blacklands would not be affected by a proposed ceiling of $20,000 or $10,000 or even $5,000 on payments. But any payment limitation would mean the larger producers would produce outside the program, and this in turn would lower our price," BCGPA officials said.

Farmers Union Panel Discusses Corporate Farm

A highlight of the recent Texas Farmers Union Legislative Seminar in Austin was the panel discussion of corporate farming. Charles Hensley, Cameron farmer, was one of the panel members.

Senator Murray Watson spoke to the seminar about progress of legislation required to implement the proposed Texas Water Plan, and Rep. George Hinson discussed the recommendations of the Governor's Committee on Public Schools Education. Other issues discussed included taxation, minimum wage, and legislation affecting the state Department of Agriculture.

Hensley said he believed the family farmer can compete successfully with the corporation farming enterprise. He said his experience with corporations is that "they are fumbling, stumbling and boondoggling" organizations. "The farmer knows the act of farming; he has an intimate knowledge of the land he farms. This would not be true in a corporation farming set-up," he said.

Other panel members described the effects of corporation farming on small towns, young people, and land ownership.

Farmers Union members from Milam County who attended the seminar were G. A. Dodd of Rosebud, Ervin J. Pelzel of Burlington, Arthur A. Theis of Thorndale, and Hensley.

Weeds Plague Area Stockmen

By D. D. Moore
Milam County's estimated income from the sale of cattle and calves in 1968 exceeded 6 million dollars. This figure almost doubles the return from any of the other agricultural enterprises.

Even with this favorable sounding report, stockmen are faced with a number of sizeable problems such as high priced land, expensive inventories, a comparative slow return on investments particularly when a cow fails to raise a calf, weeds, parasites and other problems of economic importance.

Emphasis on grass production in Milam County has made good progress. Weeds continue to be a major problem with all of our stockmen. This problem is widespread because we have cattle pastures on almost every farm in the county. Weeds are like "poor kinfolks"; they are plentiful.

Last year one pound of Simazine applied in 18 gallons of water as a premerger gained one cutting of hay by controlling weeds even with the excessive rain. However, this material should be put out the latter part of January. We were late with the chemical in the test last year.

On February 2 the county agent and Perry Edwards, Geigy representative put out 1 1/2 lbs. of Simazine plus 1/2 lb atrazine per acre in 18 gallons of water. The Atrazine was used to kill winter weeds already up at the time of application. The test was checked by the county agent on Feb. 24.

90 percent or better of the winter weeds were controlled. This was established Coastal sod. We are repeating this test to see how much grass bur control we can get. Two other tests were put down with the addition of Cheletoed iron.

Karmex and "Banvel" are chemicals we should be testing. "Banvel" will not drift to susceptible crops and will give satisfactory chemical weed control.

Two of the premerger Simazine demonstrations are on the Jerry Hall and Hobbs stock farms in the Pettibone Community. We hope to test Bromoxynol control on these tests by using Simazine as a premerger. Tours will be planned to observe these weed control tests. We must learn to use chemicals for weed control.

NEW FOODS

Some new foods on the market include enchilada sauce mix and taco seasoning mix, a packaged main dish called ham cheddaron, larger size shoestring potatoes in a one-pound re-closable can, a light-flavored relish that isn't too sweet or too tart and sugarless preserved fruits for weight watchers.

Six New Senior Colleges As Student Enrollment Goes

AUSTIN
Six new senior colleges to accommodate a 100 percent increase in enrollment in public higher education facilities during the next 12 years has been recommended in an in-depth study into the problem.

The Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, made the recommendations as part of the "Blueprint for Progress in Higher Education," the result of four years of study.

The Board, in an effort to care for a student population to reach 707,000 by 1980, recommended that new senior colleges be established at San Antonio, Midland-Odessa, Dallas, Corpus Christi and Houston. Two of the facilities would be at Houston.

The flexible plan also calls for a stabilization of enrollments in existing institutions after 1971. The Board said the stabilization is necessary to maintain a rising level of excellence while caring for the growing enrollment.

"The higher education system of Texas should not have a warehouse for the millions of students," Board Chairman John Gray said of the recommendation. "To continue on the present course is a quest of excellence, enrollments must be stabilized and new units authorized."

Gray said allowing existing institutions to grow without limits would be to ossify a process which deters institutions from emphasizing academic excellence because they remain in a state of enrollment-increase crisis.

He said it causes colleges and university leaders such concern with annual enrollment increases they cannot devote appropriate energy to careful development of student programs.

Gray said some schools could grow to such an extent that a few would have more students than the total community's non-student population, and others would have to completely rebuild their utility systems to accommodate the numbers.

WORSHIP IN CHURCH and get a spiritual lift for the whole week

"I Shall Keep This Lent"

"LENT" means springtime. It is an old Latin word which means a forty day fasting period next before Easter. It begins with Ash Wednesday and continues till Easter, exclusive of Sundays. It is a time for the conditioning of our soul... a time for our souls to become penitent. It simply means that it is spading up time, the season for planting seeds and for setting blooming trees.

In the realm of the spirit it is a call to get ready for the season of beauty and goodness. Who amongst us is satisfied with what he is or what he has been? Then let us qualify for the Lenten Season. Let us clear away the rubbish of last year's crop, cut under the old stalks. May we learn from our Lord to give ourselves to good conditioning during Lent. The miracle of Lent is genuine repentance which leads to Newness of Life. A Saintly Keeper of Lent said it well when he spoke the words, "I shall keep this Lent, and hope to refresh my Soul." Amen

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK
IN CAMERON

Lester Williams . . . President

Mr. Lester Williams has been president of the First National Bank for twenty three years, and has the distinction of holding that position for the longest period of any of the bank's presidents during its eighty year history.

Mr. Williams was born in Temple but has lived almost all of his life in Cameron. He is a 1925 graduate of Yoe High School.

He was employed by a local grocery business for 15 months before beginning his banking career by starting to work for the Citizens National Bank in 1926. He resigned from the bank in 1944 to serve in the United States Navy during World War II.

Following his discharge in January, 1946, he returned to Cameron and was elected president of the First National Bank, succeeding Mr. E. Vogelsang in that position.

Mr. Williams was married to Miss Beatrice Rylander in 1928.

He is a member of a number of business and civic organizations, and often has served in an official capacity.

He is:

Past District Chairman, Boy Scouts, and member of Board of Directors of Heart O'Texas Council, Waco.

Past president, Cameron Chamber of Commerce.

Past president, Cameron Rotary Club.

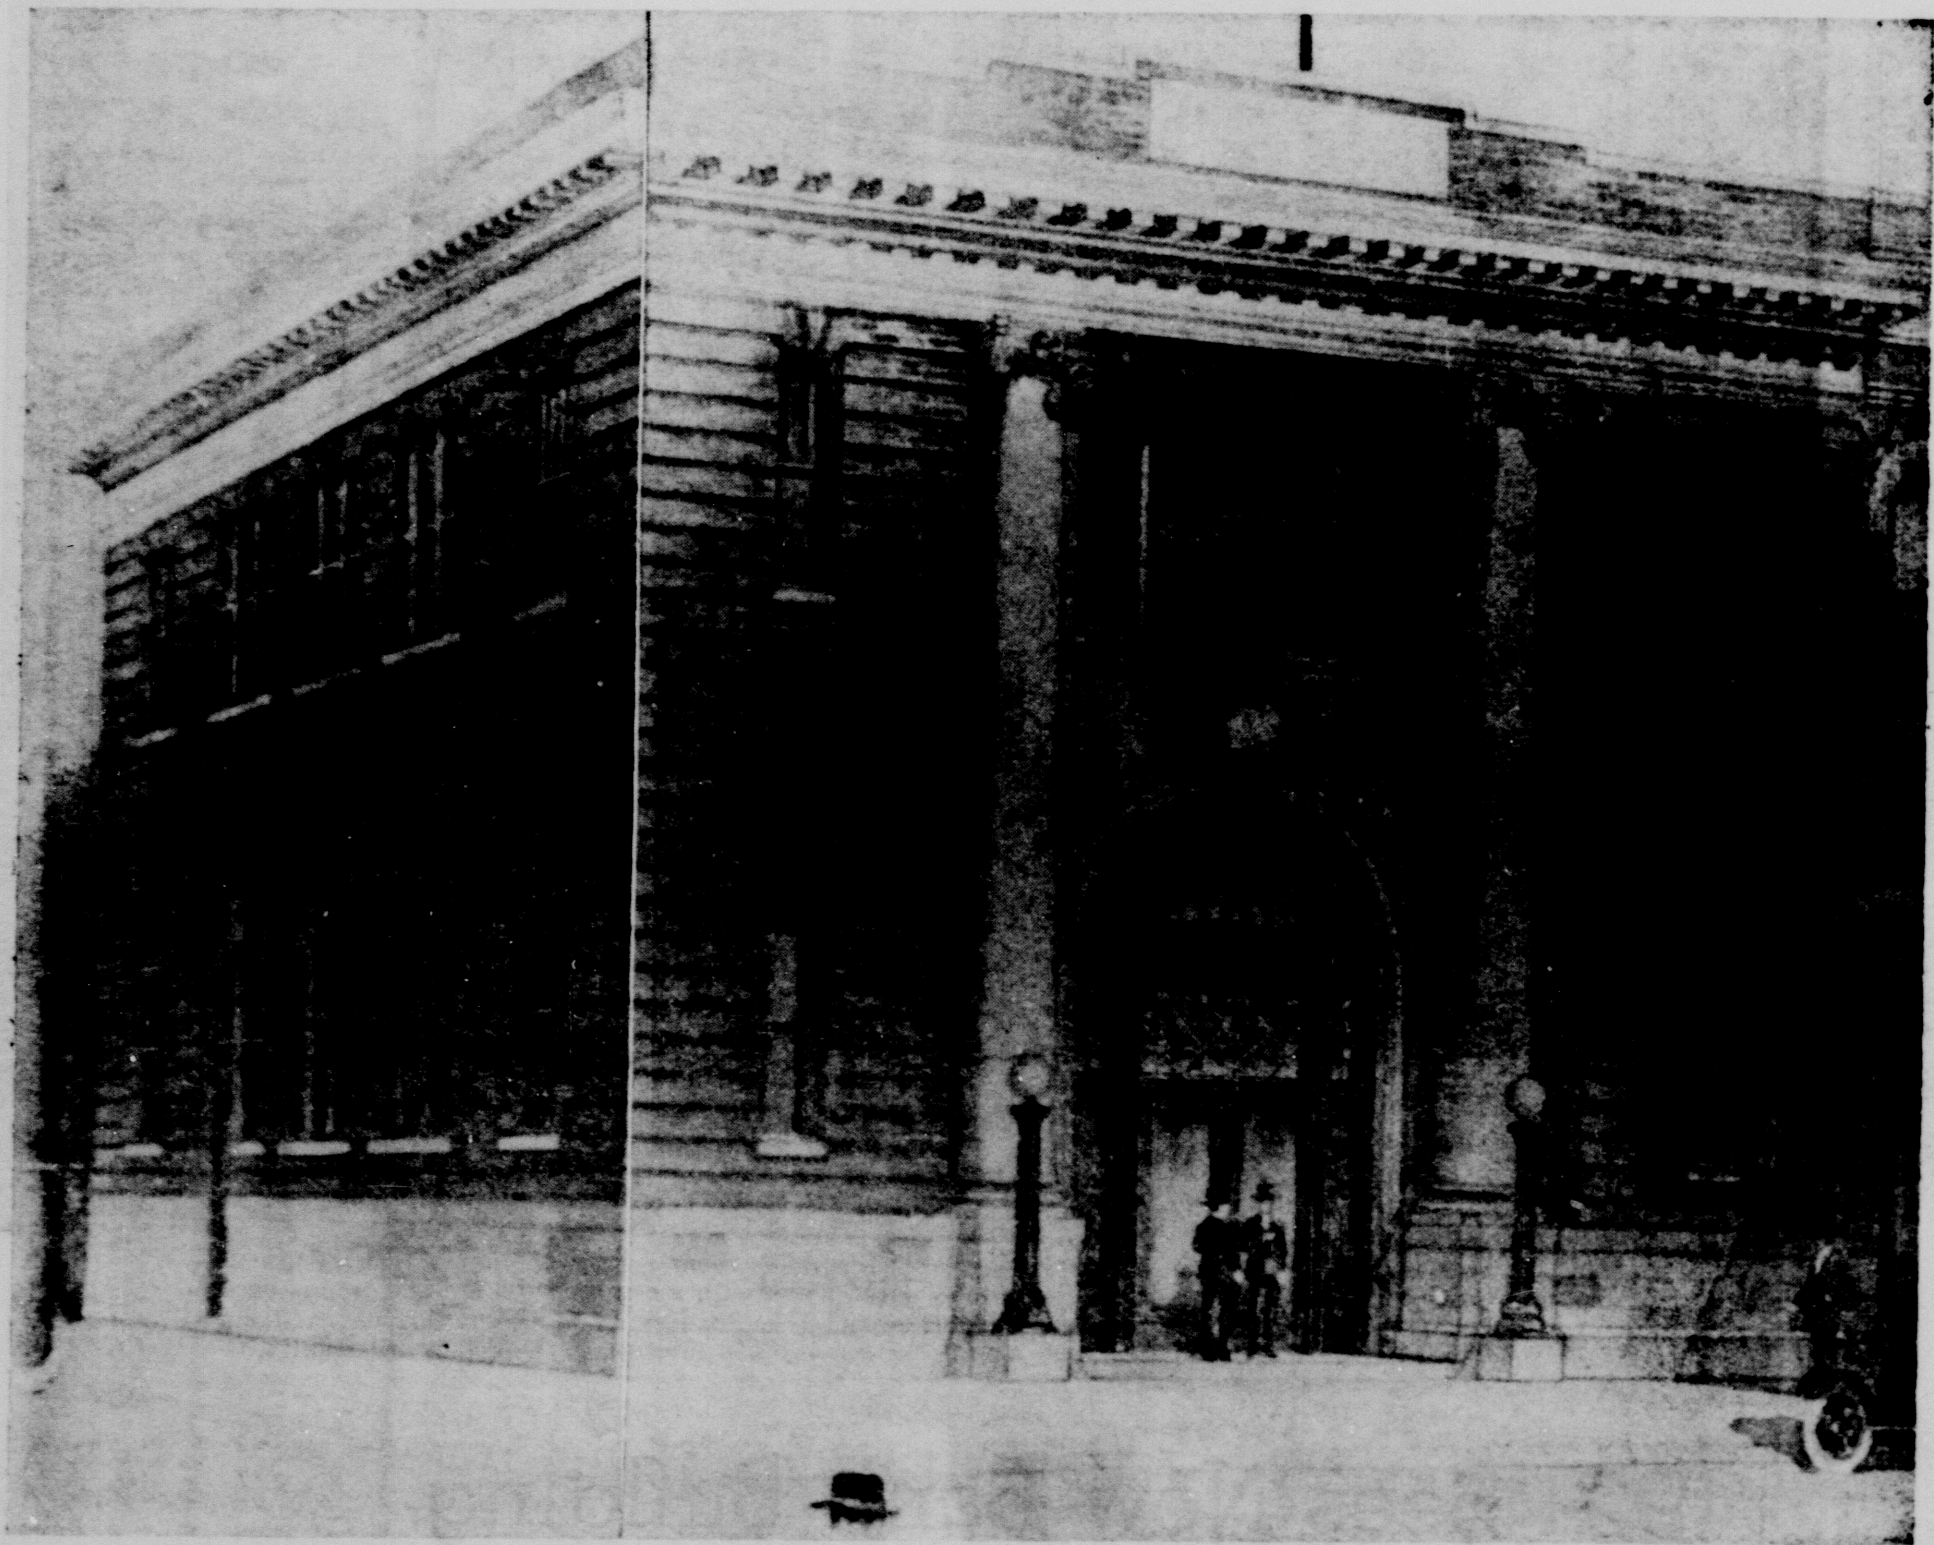

Director, Cameron Industrial Foundation.

District Chairman, National Federation of Independent Business.

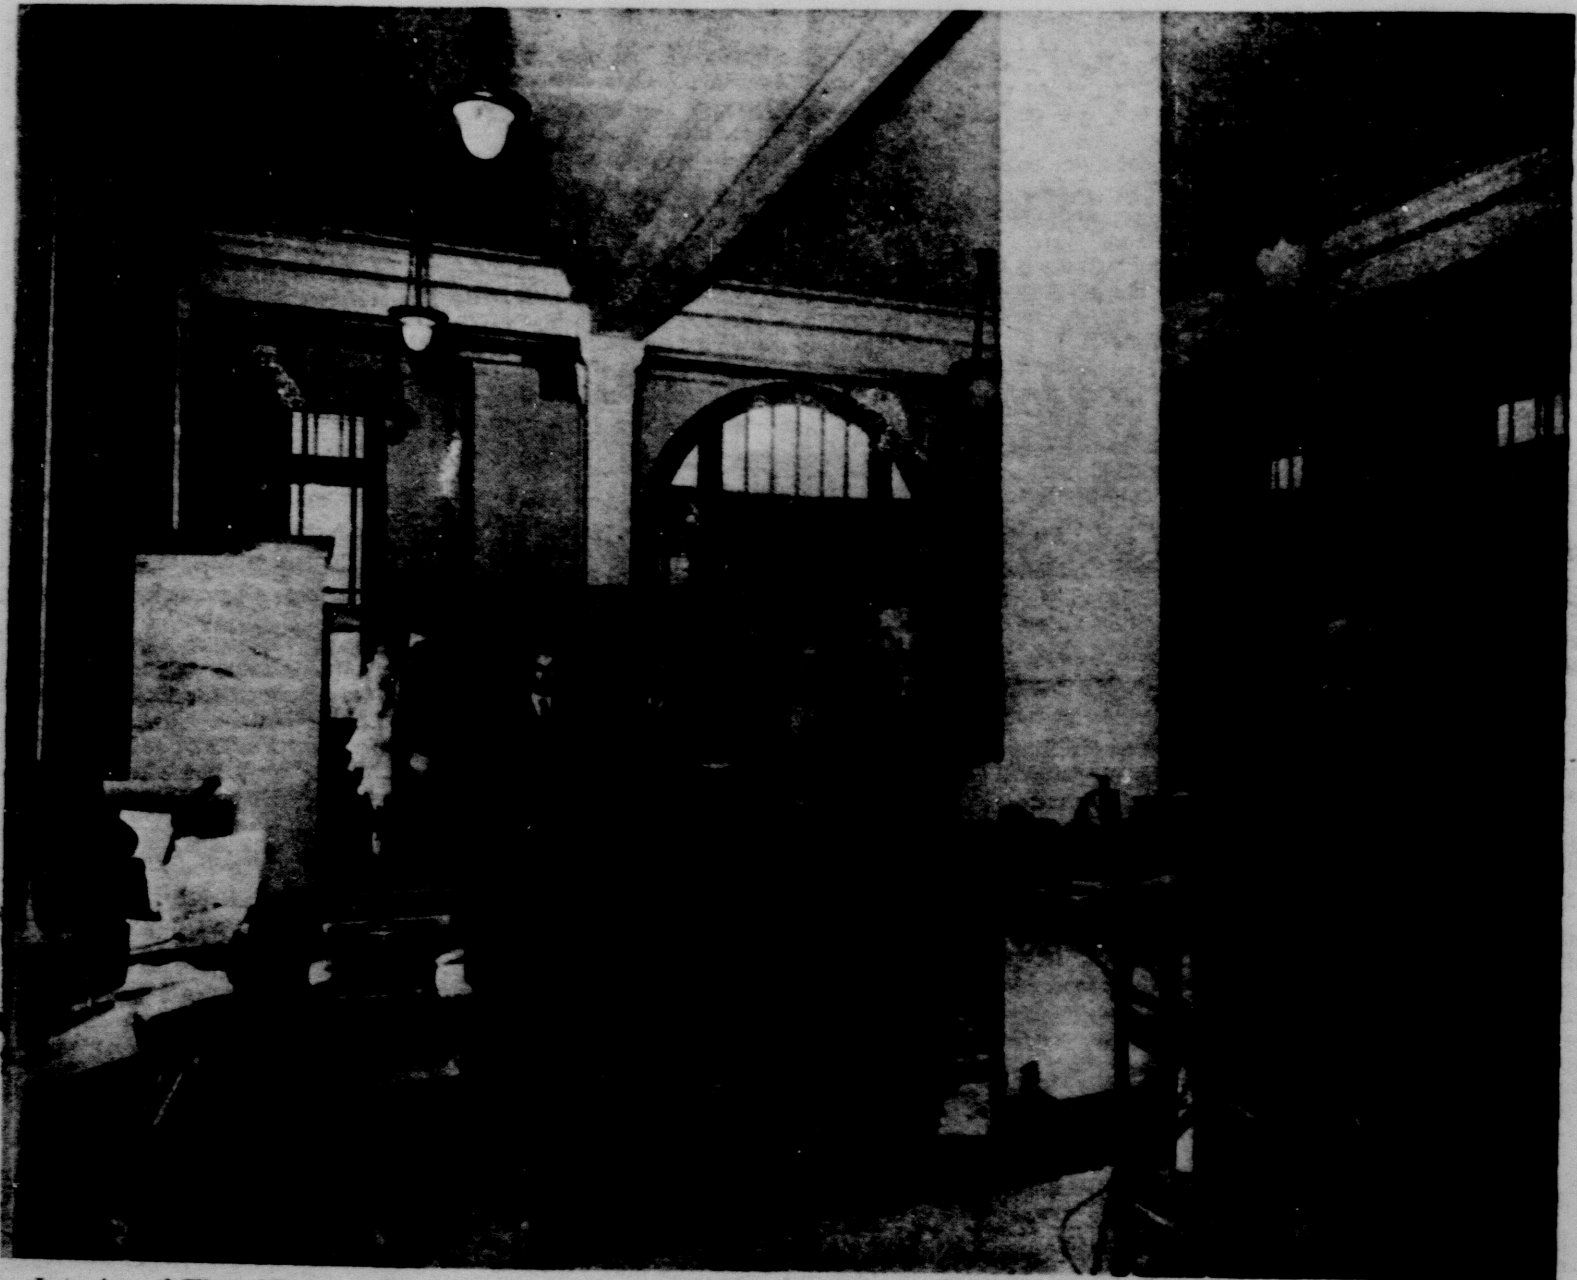

Mr. Williams also was chairman of the Fourth District, Texas Bankers Association in 1966-67.

He was recipient of the McCullin Outstanding Citizens Award in 1965 and of the Rotary "Merit Award" for Devoted and Unselfish Service in 1969.

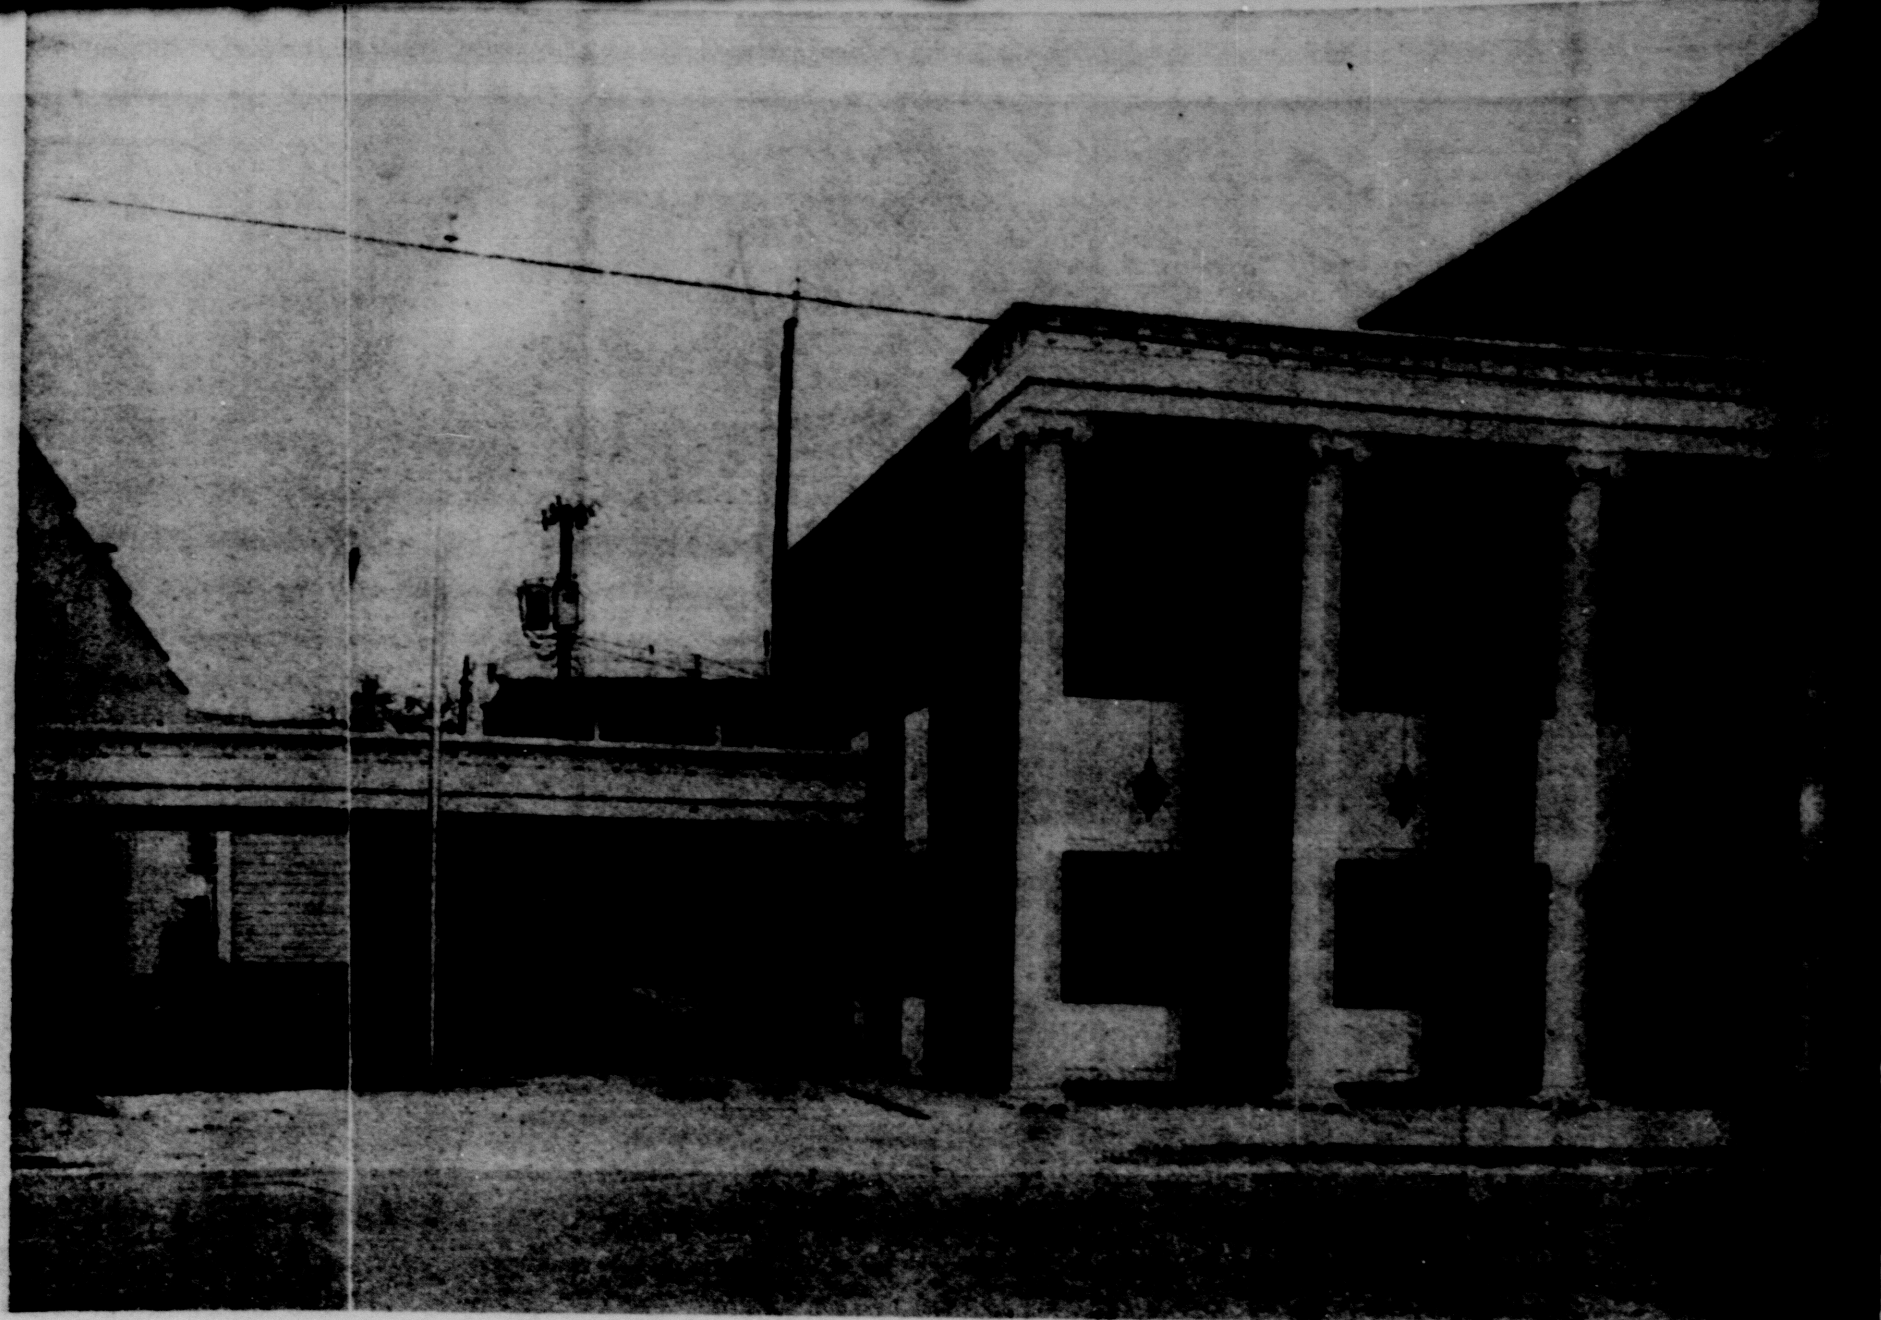

Mr. Williams is a member of the First United Methodist Church. He also is a member of the Cameron Country Club and the Austin Club.

The drive - thru facility, left, and the two - story wing fronting on West First St., are new additions to First National Bank. Private offices for the bank president and vice president, and operations and bookkeeping room are on the lower floor of the pillared wing, with a conference room and lounge on the second floor. A lighted fountain, flagpole, and landscaping add interest to the drive-thru facility.

1921 Sees New Bank Building

By Lloyd Albertson

In its issue dated March 3, 1921, the Cameron Enterprise had a banner headline across the front page of its second section that announced:

"The First National Bank Now In Their New $75,000 Home"

The "new home" the headline referred to was the then just completed two-story brick building which, with some changes and alterations, the bank still occupies today. The latest of the changes, only recently completed, include extensive remodeling and addition of a two-floor section and a drive-thru facility on the west side of the building.

The bank opened the doors of its new home Monday, January 17th, 1921.

"This handsome two-story building is modern in every particular and fire proof. It fronts on North Houston Avenue, corner on First Street. The building is 40 by 60 feet and the stairway is located to the right of the building going up between the two-story buildings just remodeled. The upper story of the new building contains ten offices which are modernly equipped.

"The new bank building is finished outside with grey pressed brick, trimmed with white stone; it has steam heat throughout, with marble fixtures. The interior of the bank is arranged so space around the entire building is utilized. In the lobby is maintained marble desks with plate glass for use of customers.

"Another feature is a room fitted for use of the customers, this is located to the rear of the building to the left of the vault. The officers quarters are on the left side of the building and include a private office for the president, an office for the cashier and assistant cashier, and behind these is the directors' room. On the right side of the building is the working room for the employees; this includes six windows for the various departments.

"The contract for the vault in the new First National Bank calls for the most modern structure that is possible to build. This important part of the new building will be located in the center of the building at the rear and will be built by the Mosler Safe Company of Hamilton, Ohio, and constructed of Manganese Steel, which is known to be indestructible. The door will be 11½ inches thick, containing 22,000 pounds of steel, and will be circular. In the vault will be installed safety deposit boxes. The equipment for the vault has arrived and will be installed at once.

"Everything modern in banking in the way of equipment has been installed and Cameron boasts of one of the best banking institutions in Texas.

"The contractors on this building were Gross and Schwinger of Waco and they are credited with an expert job of construction."

cluded.

Concerning the vault First National's president Lester Williams recalled recently that when he was attending an American Bankers Association convention in Miami Florida a few years ago he met a salesman who told him he had sold the vault to the bank.

"He was an old man then" he said. "When he found out I was from Cameron he asked me about the vault. He said he remembered it especially because it had a round door which was something unusual then. He said it cost the bank $40.00. It probably would cost ten times that much now."

The bank was already 32 years old when it moved into its new building in January 1921. It had done business at the same location however ever since it had been organized by John M. Hefley and several other Cameron businessmen in 1889 occupying a brick building there. A two-story structure with the narrow windows and arched doorways of that period's architecture, it was torn down to make way for the new building. A crane with a swinging steel ball was brought in for the wrecking operation.

"It was the first time one of them had been seen in Cameron," Leland Green Jr. local furniture store owner said recently in recalling the event. "The man who operated it was an expert; when he knocked the old building down he did it so that most of the brick fell into a vacant lot next to it. Only a little of the brick fell into the street."

The bank had been moved a short distance north in the block on Houston Street to quarters in a building formerly occupied by the postoffice, and about where the Dusek Pharmacy and Cameron Barber Shop are located today. The move was made after the close of business Saturday, May 29, 1920, according to an old letter from the bank to one of its customers, a Cameron lawyer, Tom S. Henderson.

"... and while we may be a little crowded," the letter said in part, "we will be able to take care of the business of our customers in the usual way and we ask that you bear with us in our undertaking to give our customers a better service in our enlarged quarters when the new building is completed."

When, some six months later, the First National Bank moved into its brand new building in January, 1921, it had a staff of nine officers and employees. The old Cameron Enterprise story listed them as follows: A. N. Green, president; Henry M. Hefley, cashier; J. C. Reese, vice-president; S. W. Cheeves, vice-president; J. L. Clinton, assistant cashier; B. F. Bounds, assistant cashier; R. C. Moody and M. P. Adams, bookkeepers; and Miss Mary Burnett, stenographer.

The First National Bank's New and Enlarged Downtown Facility.

80 Years Old - Still Growing

Cameron has had a First National Bank for almost eighty years. It will be eighty years, in fact, on August 22nd. Because it was on that date in 1889 that John M. Hefley and several other Cameron businessmen organized it at a meeting of the stockholders. They started it with a capital stock of $50,000.

An old record lists those early day stockholders as follows: John M. Hefley, John B. McLane, J. C. Reese, John R. Hoxie, A. J. Lewis, W. T. Hefley, B. L. Arnold, Tobe Johnson, Tom Peeples, S. D. Raney, R. H. Sellers, John C. McCarthy, C. P. Dodge and B. B. Baxter.

At that same meeting John M. Hefley was elected President, C. P. Dodge, cashier, and T. F. Hardy, assistant cashier.

The bank was located on the same corner of North Houston and First Street that the present First National does, occupying an old two story brick building.

Records of those first years are sketchy. But a list of the banks presidents for the first quarter century is preserved. John M. Hefley was president in 1889, 1890, 1892, and 1893. R. H. Sellers in 1891. T. F. Hardy, 1904-1905. J. N. Bradshaw, 1906-1908. A. J. Dossett, 1909 - 1911, and A. N. Green started a tenure in 1912 that was to extend into the late 1920's.

The bank prospered, because on July 16, 1914, according to an old record, the capital and surplus was raised to $125,000. The report adds rather proudly:

"Through the two great panics of 1893 and 1907 it is a great satisfaction to recall that not only was our institution able to go safely through the storm, but that we were able to assist our friends by carrying over their paper without forcing collections, and never did we limit in any way the payment of money on checks."

The bank entered the prosperous Roaring Twenties with a brand new building. A. N. Green remained as president until about 1928, then was succeeded by S. W. Cheeves, who was an early day director and officer. Also named at this time as executive vice president was Henry M. Hefley. Hefley had started with the bank in 1904 as cashier at eighteen.

Cheeves died in office in about two years; he was succeeded by R. H. McIntosh, and Henry M. Hefley was elected to the president's spot about 1933. He was to serve through the great depression and the World War II years.

Like all banks across the nation, the First National had some lean years in the depression era and wartime with its shortages.

Henry M. Hefley died in 1945, and E. Vogelsang served as president during the interim until Lester Williams was elected to the post on January 17, 1946.

Those were the men who as president guided the bank for almost eighty years.

Under the present management headed by Lester Williams the bank has shown a steady growth. Perhaps figures best tell the story. On December 31, 1945, old bank records show the First National had deposits totaling $2,282,000. At the close of 1955 they stood at $3,895,000. Five years later on December 31, 1960 they were $4,548,000. And at the end of 1968 they were $7,902,000.

The bank has grown in other ways too. It has just completed a remodeling and expansion program which has modernized the bank building and added a new drive-thru facility.

First National's officers today, which were elected early this year are: Lester Williams, president; Richard Williams, vice president; E. A. Manning, vice president; Mrs. Janice Turner, assistant vice president; William Dockall, cashier; and Lillie McWilliams and Sylvia Schattle, assistant cashiers.

Open House Set

Plans have been completed for the First National Bank in Cameron to hold an open house on Saturday afternoon celebrating the completion of its remodeling and expansion program, Richard Williams, vice president, has announced.

The open house will be held from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday, March 8, he said, and the public is invited to attend and inspect the extensive changes that have been made in the bank's facilities.

Plans call for the open house to start at one o'clock with a short program at the front entrance to the bank. There will be brief speeches by First National's president, Lester Williams, Mayor E. A. Perrin, Judge O. B. Harden, Eugene Smitherman, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and possibly one or two out-of-town visitors.

Following this the bank will be open to visitors and tours will be conducted of the building and the new drive-thru bank facility.

Plans have been made for 500 orchids to be flown in from Hawaii, Williams said, and these will be presented to the first 500 ladies attending the open house.

He added that there will be gifts for everyone attending. A number of prizes also will be given away, and registering for them can be done all during the week at the bank. First prize will be a color television set. Other prizes are several radios, binoculars and other items. The drawing will be held at 10:30 a.m. Monday, March 10, and it is not necessary to be present in order to win.

The open house celebration is being held, Williams said, to express First National's appreciation for the patronage and support that it has received from the people of the area.

New, Enlarged Facilities To Serve Better Your Banking Needs

The First National Bank building in 1969, remodeled to present a modern exterior with graceful entrances to both the main bank and to the new wing on the west side of the building.

Remodeling Adds Modern Touch

The First National Bank building, which has been undergoing enlargement and extensive remodeling for several months, has recently had the work completed.

While the classic lines of the original building, constructed in 1920, have been retained, it has been given a modern touch by the addition of a drive-thru bank facility.

The whole effect is to make it into one of the most attractive bank buildings in the Central Texas area.

Outside, the most noticeable changes are on the south, or First Street, side. These include the new two-story addition to the original building on the west side, and next to it, the two-lane drive-thru bank that extends to the wall of the adjoining building.

Another exterior change is the closing of all second story windows with a white plaster finish to create a panel effect. Together with the original white stone wainscoting and trim, they contrast with the dark grey brick wall of the building. And so, too, do the four tall white wooden columns that stand in front of the entrance to the new addition.

The other noticeable change is the new sidewalk which has been built around the building, which is composed of 3-4 inch exposed aggregate. Its slightly rough pebbly surface adds another modern touch to the exterior of the building.

Inside, the changes that have been made are even more striking.

BANK LOBBY

The bank lobby has been completely remodeled. It has a white acoustical drop ceiling, and the walls are covered with wood paneling in a walnut finish.

The old style marble barrier on the left that had partitioned off the loan officers area has been removed, together with an old private office in the rear. This has permitted enlargement of the officers quarters and has given the lobby a much more spacious appearance.

And on the right side of the lobby the five teller stations have been repainted and the teller counter tops refinished in a suede leather Formica material.

All the windows are new; they have bronze duronic finish aluminum frames, holding 1/4-inch thick solar bronze tempered glass. The doors at the front entrance and side entrance also have the same type aluminum frames and bronze tinted glass.

A burnished gold carpet covers portions of the lobby, including the officers quarters and the tellers working area. Fabric drapes at the windows are in gold, too, contrasting with the dark brown wall paneling.

The bank's vault, located at the rear of the lobby, and built by the Mosler Safe Company in 1921, is carpeted and has had a 5x8 foot mirror installed in one wall. And another mirror, 7 x 9 feet, has been placed on its outside wall just to the right of the big circular manganese steel door. More safety deposit boxes also have been added in the vault.

On the right side of the lobby next to the vault two private louvered booths have been located for the convenience of the bank's safety deposit customers.

The remodeling of the lobby has been done with imagination and gives the effect, overall, of combining the functional and the decorative, which is the trend in today's mass modern banking institutions.

WEST SIDE ADDITION

The new addition on the west side of the original bank building contains 2,900 square feet of floor space, according to the architect's figures. In it are two private offices for the bank president and vice-president, and a large room for the operations and bookkeeping department on the lower floor. A conference room and rest rooms are on the second floor.

It is masonry construction, and has the same type brick produced by the same company that supplied it for the construction of the original building in 1920.

Entrance to the new section is either from the bank lobby or through the doorway facing on First Street.

This entrance is flanked by four 21-foot tall white wooden columns similar to two stone columns at the front entrance of the building. Three Early American type lanterns hanging on chains from the porch ceiling add an ornamental touch to the entrance.

The bronze solar glass doors open into a small foyer which has a terrazzo floor and wood paneled walls. A staircase leads from it to the conference room and the employees coffee room on the second floor. It has a wrought iron railing painted in gold, with an oak stained handrail.

The foyer is lighted by a 25 bulb chandelier.

Located above the bank vault, the coffee room has been remodeled and carpeted, and has several tables, chairs and other furniture for use by employees during coffee breaks. A rack on one wall holds bank periodicals, regulations and magazines.

The conference room is spacious. Like other areas of the bank, it has wood paneled walls in walnut finish, is carpeted, and has gold fabric drapes at the windows. In its center is a 10-foot long conference table, which was built by Walter Anderle of Cameron. The conference room will be available for use by customers and civic organizations.

NEWS NOTES

Prentiss Childs, co-producer of "Face the Nation" Sundays on the CBS Television Network, has had some harrowing experiences in connection with the CBS News series. On one trip to South Vietnam a bomb exploded in a closet next to his hotel room. Fortunately, he was out at the time and escaped harm, but his personal effects were destroyed.

Barbara Bain, as a cabaret singer, will sing three songs in the style of Marlene Dietrich, and Martin Landau, in mask and white makeup, will play a Scaramouche-type nightclub emcee in an episode of "Mission: Impossible" later this season. Lyrics for Miss Bain's original songs were written by Bruce Geller, creator and executive producer of the Sunday-night series on the CBS Television Network. Two of the melodies were written by Lalo Schiffrin, composer of the show's theme. Herschel Gilbert and Rudy Schrager wrote the music for the third song. Dances for the European cabaret scene were choreographed by Jack Baker, assisted by Wilda Taylor. Fritz Weaver is the guest star.

Irene Ryan retired from show business in 1942, though you'd never know it, watching her cavort as Granny on "The Beverly Hillbillies" Wednesdays on the CBS Television Network. A few years after she "retired," she attended a USO show and was persuaded to perform. "The laughter and applause got ot me," she says, "and I had to go back to work. Once a ham, always a ham."

• • •

Peter Link, who plays Tommy Hughes on "As the World Turns" weekdays on the CBS Television Network, and C.C. Courtney, also an actor in daytime television drama, have written the music and script for "Salvation," a rock musical with a religious theme scheduled for an off-Broadway opening February 25.

CBS News' "Face the Nation" has visited every continent except Australia to present interviews with leading statesmen for broadcast on the Sunday series on the CBS Television Network.

Ed Sullivan's first job was caddying at the Apawamis Country Club in Rye, N.Y. His caddy badge was number 98. A youngster named Eugene Saraceni, who was number 99, became golf immortal Gene Sarazen.

Kurt Kasznar (right) and Stefan Arngrim observe from hiding an experiment of a giant scientist, in "Genius at Work" on ABC-TV's LAND OF THE GIANTS Sunday, March 9.

Co-Star Of ABC-TV'S "What's It All About, World?"

Scoey Mitchell, whose name has been described as a proofreader's nightmare, derives his unique comedy routines from what he calls the "insightful comedic honesties" of life. He is funny without resorting to hackneyed or obvious material.

Ask him the source of his comedy and he'll tell you. "It's life. Anything that's real. I don't intentionally do comedy material that borders on fantasy. When race material was popular, I did ethnic material. I don't preach because I don't feel I'm qualified to preach; and secondly, messages may not be entertainment. I step onto a stage for one purpose and one purpose only—to entertain."

Scoey, who was born in Newburgh, N.Y., attended grammar school in Tarrytown, N.Y. and was graduated from Bordentown Military School in New Jersey. At Virginia Union University in Richmond, he majored in psychology and minored in physical education. After college he served as a lieutenant in the Air Force.

In 1955, after returning to civilian life, Scoey hitchhiked to Los Angeles, where he got his first taste of show business by emceeing cafe shows. During the day he washed cars, worked as a janitor, or pumped gas.

By 1960 Scoey felt he was ready for the big time and migrated from Buffalo—where he had been living for two years after leaving Los Angeles—to New York City where he came into his own as a theatre and nightclub M.C. Then Scoey was "discovered" by television and appeared on such top programs as "The Smothers Brothers Show" and "The Ed Sullivan Show." He was one of the first regulars to be signed by producers Ilson and Chambers for their weekly satirical revue, "What's It All About, World?"

Marlon Brando, Montgomery Clift

Marlon Brando, Montgomery Clift and Dean Martin star in "The Young Lions," the panoramic film dramatization of the Irwin Shaw novel, on "The ABC Wednesday Night Movie" WEDNESDAY, MARCH 5.

Hope Lange, Barbara Rush, Mai Britt, and Maximilian Schell, in a role that marked his American film debut, are also featured in the 1958 motion picture epic.

The epic war drama details the story of Christian Diestl, a dedicated German Army officer, a man who follows the book on war as the Nazis steamroller toward Paris early in World War II. Here we also meet Capt. Hardenberg and his wife Gretchen.

Meanwhile, in America, Noah Ackerman and Michael Whiteacre meet for the first time at the draft board, where Michael seeks a deferment and Noah is resigned to serving. Later, at a party in Michael's apartment, Noah meets Michael's girl, Margaret Freemantle, and Hope Plowman, with whom he falls in love and whom he marries before he enters the Army.

The scene continually shifts to depict this story of three vastly different young men, the girls they love and the effect of the war upon each of them.

Networks Announces Dead Series

Both CBS and NBC have announced which of their series are dead. NBC has, in fact, announced its entire new lineup for the fall season.

Those NBC series which have fallen are "The Jerry Lewis Show," "Star Trek," "Ghost and Mrs. Muir," "New Adventures of Huck Finn," "Mothers-In-Law," "My Friend Tony," "The Outsider" and "Get Smart."

Over at CBS-TV only five shows have bit the dust. They are "Wild Wild West," "The Jonathan Winters Show," "Gomer Pyle," "Gentle Ben" and "The Queen and I."

ABC, the only network which has made no official announcement, will probably be the place where most of the axings occur. So far the shows which look like definite casualties are "Peyton Place" (a known death for several weeks), "The Outcasts" and "The Avengers."

NBC, the first network to announce its complete new fall schedule, is adding seven new series which include three hour-long shows with contemporary dramatic themes, three series featuring popular entertainers Bill Cosby, Debbie Reynolds and Andy Williams. This will be a return for Williams and Cosby who have had previous series on the network.

TWO OF THE NETWORK'S returning programs, "I dream of Jeannie" and "Adam 12" will move to new time periods.

One of two show canceled by NBC has been given a reprieve on another network and the second may be headed the same way.

"Get Smart" has been picked up by CBS and, rumors say, 20th Century-Fox (the producing studio) is in conference with ABC about the possibility of picking up "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir."

The new shows in the NBC schedule are as follows:

On Mondays at 7:30 p.m. viewers will see the return of Bill Cosby to the NBC fold in "The Bill Cosby Show." Cosby will portray a big city high school gym teacher and assistant coach who moonlights-principally as a private investigator.

On Sundays at 9 p.m. will come "The Now People." This one will have a format similar to "The Name of the Game"-three separate 1-hour segments which will alternate each week. The segments will deal with law, police administration and medicine.

THE LAW DRAMA will star Burl Ives, James Farentino and Joseph Campanella as three partners in a law firm. The police drama will star Hari Rhodes as a district attorney and Leslie Nielsen as a police chief. The medical drama will star Joseph Cotten, John Saxon and David Hartman as a 3-man surgical team working on the frontiers of the new medicine of human transplants and advanced biochemical techniques.

The new program in Monday's lineup at 6:30 p.m. will be "My World and Welcome to It." James Thurber's spirit is captured in this series, the network says, about a cartoonist and his family, portrayed by William Windom, Joan Hotchkis and Lisa Gerritsen. Live action and animation will be utilized. This is a Sheldon Leonard production-who has just lost "My Friend Tony."

Making her debut in a weekly show will be Debbie Reynolds on Tuesday nights at 7 p.m. over NBC.

This show will be produced before a live audience and will star Miss Reynolds as an on-the-go suburban housewife with a family circle that includes her sportswriter husband, a domineering older sister, an easy-going brother-in-law and a chubby, myopic 10-year old nephew.

Filling in the Wednesday night vacancy left by "The Outsider" will be "And Then Came Bronson," starring Michael Parks as a roving free spirit running toward life. The series will feature extensive location filming as Bronson motorcycles across America, stopping in cities and towns, influencing the lives of many people.

FRIDAY NIGHTS'S new series will be "Braken's World," a drama, four years in development, authentically telling the behind-the-scenes story of movie making. Starring will be Eleanor Parker, Dennis Cole, Elizabeth Allen and Peter Haskell. Appearing in cameo roles in the premiere episode will be Tony Curtis, Raquel Welch and Omar Sharif.

Completing the new NBC schedule will be Andy Williams' return on Saturday nights at 6:30 p.m. It will be a musical-variety format.

The irrepressible Tammy Grimes guest stars as a saloon girl Polly Teasdale--a tough little gal whos only love is money--in "Hung For A Lamb," on ABC-TV's THE OUTCASTS, Monday, March 10.

American Jones Girl

Actress Shirley Jones, comedian Dick Cavett and songstress Dusty Springfield will join the sensational British singing star, Tom Jones, on his new ABC-TV variety hour, "This Is Tom Jones," FRIDAY, MARCH 7.

Also appearing on the show, which originates from London, are The Foundations, one of England's top rock groups, and Engelbert Humperdinck, a romantic crooner who was transformed into an international pop sensation with one gold record hit, "Release Me."

Jones opens the show with renditions of "Mohair Sam" and "The Shadow Of Your Smile," highlighted by the performance of the show's troupe of dancers and models.

Then the handsome Welsh singing star will join Shirley Jones in a duet of "There Once Was A Man."

After ABC-TV comedy star Dick Cavett takes over with a hilarious question-and-answer skit in which he involves the audience, Jones sings "Wichita Lineman."

Dusty Springfield, who twice has been voted "World Top Female Singer" by Britain's leading trade publications, will sing her hit tune, "Son Of A Preacher-Man."

The Foundations sing "Build Me Up Buttercup," followed by Engelbert Humperdinck's rendition of "The Way It Used To Be" and "Love Can Fly."

Shirley Jones sings "Somewhere," and Jones concludes the show with his regular concert spot which this week includes "Hello Young Lovers," "Yesterday," and "Twist and Shout."

"This Is Tom Jones" is produced by Jon Scoffield.

The series features the Mike Sammes Singers and Jack Parnell and his orchestra. Kenny Powell is the musical coordinator and the choreography is by Norman Maen. The writers are Ed Simmons, Ronnie Cass and David Cummings.

Liam Dunn, who plays Captain Washburn on "The Queen and I," Thursday-night comedy on the CBS Television Network, has a great track record for discovering talent. As a casting director for the CBS Television Network, before he began his acting career, he gave first television acting assignments to Steve McQueen, Paul Newman, Warren Beatty, Sandy Dennis, Peter Falk and William Shatner, among others. His latest discovery is a group of Jewish cantors whose singing he is recording for an album to be issued by his own record company.

The King Family To Star

In New -ABC TV Series

"The King Family," featuring the famous singing King Sisters-Yvonne, Luise, Marilyn, Alyce, Maxine and Donna-plus the entire King family, will star in a half-hour music and variety series on ABC-TV starting WEDNESDAY, MARCH 12.

Featured with the six King sisters-a singing group that has been popular with American audiences for the past two decades-will be the entire King family: husbands, cousins, nieces and nephews.

In 1965, when the King family starred in a weekly ABC-TV series, the family members totaled 37 and most of this group will appear in the new half-hour series. The family's musical tradition dates back to 1921 when the father of the clan, William King Driggs, talked the family into putting on a show at Brigham Young University to help raise funds for a new University stadium.

In their new ABC-TV series, the older generation Kings will specialize in singing the older American standards while the younger Kings will provide songs in the contemporary music beat.

"The King Family" will be produced in Hollywood for ABC by North American Television Inc. Producer of the program will be Del Jack.

Marlo Thomas Models

As Miss Air Force, Ann Marie jets on cross-country hops with handsome Air Force Major Brian James (guest star Robert Colbert) in a recruiting campaign for the WAF, on ABC-TV's "That Girl."

In "Fly Me To The Moon," Marlo Thomas introduces the new duty uniform that some 8000 women in the Air Force will be wearing this Spring.

In the story, Ann Marie has boyfriend Don Hollinger's apartment torn apart for re-decorating when the Major selects her to participate in his program of recruiting qualified women for the space program.

Ann returns from her first flight to New Orleans to be reminded glumly by Don, under pressure to complete a magazine assignment, that she missed a crucial appointment with the carpenter at his place.

TAP Campaign Will Promote Texas Beef During March, April

"Texas is the number one cattle producing state in the nation and there is no reason anyone should eat beef from other states," Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said in announcing a campaign to make Texas grain-fed beef a household word.

The Agriculture Department's program is being used throughout the state to promote home-grown products, with emphasis changed each two months. The TAP symbol (Texas Agricultural Products) is used for the promotions in the new program.

Outdoor billboards, color posters and case strips in grocery stores will highlight the beef promotion in March and April. Inserts on Texas beef will also be provided by the Ag Department for inclusion in bank statements and utility bills.

"By the time the next two months are over," White said, "we hope that housewives will ask for Texas beef and not just beef."

Yoe Hosts 34th Relays

Cameron's 34th annual relays are set to get underway Saturday afternoon, though unsettled weather may provide a wet track and less than ideal conditions for the tracksters.

Twenty-two teams will compete in the relays and Round Rock is the favorite to walk off with championship trophy, having won both the Ft. Stockton and Brenham meets.

Georgetown and McGregor also have meet records that promise a good showing at Saturday's events.

Coach Hal Stanislaw said about the only threat to Cameron relay records was Round Rock in the mile relay. Taylor's 1966 time of 3:30.1 may go down on Saturday.

Stanislaw said the Yoe track team were handicapped by having both the Copperas Cove and Rockdale meets rained out, leaving them with experience in the season opener at Taylor only.

Last year the Yoemen were third place winners in the Cameron meet, and in 1967 were champions on their own field, breaking a 32-year record.

Two new records were set last year as Del Valle's Louis Arnold scored 65" in the high jump, and Dick Little of San Saba vaulted 12'6".

TANE Endorses Breath Test Bills

"Implied consent and chemical test bills now before the Texas Legislature are matters of life and death to hundreds of Texans," Albert F. Tucker, Executive Director of Texas Alcohol Narcotics Education (TANE) said today.

"These bills, which require suspected drunken drivers to submit to a test, and make the results of the test positive evidence of guilt, could potentially cut Texas highway deaths in half," Tucker said. Approximately 50 percent of all highway deaths are now caused by drinking drivers.

"Beside the 60 per cent of Texas drivers who kill themselves in one-car accidents while drunk, the lives of hundreds of totally innocent victims would also be spared."

"TANE is not a political organization, but for the sake of human life, we urge passage of such bills as House Bill 26 by Don Cavness, Senate Bill 71 by Charles Wilson, and Senate Bill 74 by Charles Herring."

PERSONAL
Mr. and Mrs. Jack Konnemer and children of Alice spent the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Weems and Mrs. Roy Weems. Saturday night guests of Mrs. Roy Weems were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Schluter of Austin.

You Don't Say

if you are referring to a natural tendency toward a thing; inclination.

PROPENSITY (pro PEN suh tee) is the correct word for the above.

PROCLIVITY (pro KLIV uh tee) means inclination BUT with reference to something discreditable! PENCHANT (PEN chunt) means inclination BUT especially with regard to a strong liking or fondness.

The vagaries of English—here are three words which all mean inclination but if used incorrectly could not only fail the speaker—but could insult the person of whom you are speaking.

Tips From Tippet

The vast majority of commercial drivers know they are forbidden by company rules to give rides to hitchhikers. The average motorist is sometimes tempted and stops to give some hitchhiker a ride. Now there is a new temptation for some drivers: mini-skirted hitchhikers.

These young girls present quite a temptation to some male drivers, but only a mini-minded driver would give them a lift. Although she may be just a foolish girl looking for a ride home, you can't be sure. To find out could cost you your car, your wallet, or even your life.

Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office in Cameron, Texas, under the Act of Congress of March 1, 1879. Published every Thursday.

County Blood Program . . .

The Milam County blood program underwent self-examination last week. Officials of the program from the Waco regional office and the county viewed the Milam County effort.

It is indeed a good program when almost 500 pints of blood are available to Milam Countians, either in the county or in other parts of Texas and the nation.

Figures quoted at the meeting showed 705 pints or units of blood or packed red cells and two units of serum albumin available. Countians gave 676 units during the 1967-68 blood year.

If this much blood had to be purchased outright by Countians, it would run into tens of thousands of dollars. Blood costs from $35 to $40 or more a pint.

Not every county in Texas, indeed, it is the exception rather than the rule for a county to be included in such a program.

It serves Countians whether they need the blood here or elsewhere. The fact that Milam County is included in the program qualifies residents for blood use anywhere in the nation if they identify themselves as residents of a blood-center county.

It is a worthy project. Milam Countians are wise to continue it.

What Others Say . . .

Census And Invasions Of Privacy

If 1984 is not probable, neither is it impossible. And it would be far more probable if we were willing to accept without protest all the many schemes and regulations dreamed up by the social engineers.

One such regulation is the provision of the 1970 census questionnaire at - taching criminal penalties ($100 fine and 60 days in jail) for refusal to answer 120 personal questions: Amount of rent paid; education; with whom you share bathroom and kitchen facilities; the number of appliances you own, etc.

Arizona Rep. Sam Steiger is one of a growing number of congressmen—109 at last count—who oppose the questionnaire. Indeed, Steiger, who has introduced a bill to repeal it, terms it a "governmental invasion of privacy never before attempted on such a broad scale."

That description is only slightly hyperbolic. For the questions asked in the questionnaire are clearly not necessary for the proper functioning of government. Therefore, they are not the government's business. . . .

Some supporters argue that business needs the information contained in the questionnaire in order to accumulate data necessary for projecting inventories and markets.

That is disingenuous. Even if we were to agree that the federal census should be used primarily to support private enterprise—a curious idea which goes far beyond Calvin Coolidge's "The business of America is business"—the argument would still be invalid. Market research is so advanced that any major business can determine, within an astonishingly accurate degree, all it needs to know about buying habits, education, and everything else asked in the questionnaire.

Representative Steiger's bill would propose that the mandatory questions on the census questionnaire be limited to name, address, age, sex, head of household, and persons present in the home at the time the census is taken. It would leave the remaining questions to be answered voluntarily.

We support the proposal wholeheartedly.

Lawmaker Face 1900 Bills As Halfway Mark Nears

By Vera Sanford

AUSTIN
Texas lawmakers are nearing the halfway mark of the 61st legislative session and the pace is beginning to quicken visibly.

More than 1,200 House bills and some 700 Senate bills (plus nearly 100 proposed constitutional amendments) were filed by Friday, the deadline for free-introduction of bills. A four-fifths majority now is required.

Although floor sessions are brief, a lot of legislation is getting passed—63 bills last week alone, including some of the session's major business.

And the lights burn bright at the state capitol after midnight for some committees which schedule hearings on as many as a dozen bills at a time. Other committee meetings begin as early as 9 a.m. and last until floor action starts in the House and Senate.

So far, the Senate has reversed its usual form. It is cranking out general bills far faster than the House, where the representatives are pursuing a more methodical, look-'em-over-carefully procedure.

Last week, for example, the Senate banged through 34 bills on its regular calendars, some so fast there was no time allowed for explanation, let alone debate. Across the rotunda, the House passed only 13 measures on major calendars, but representatives reduced the gap considerably by cranking through 16 local bills at a single, hour-long sitting. Gov. Preston Smith signed six more into law.

One thing is sure...as the second lap of an historic legislative session begins, things will get a lot faster and a lot more hectic before early June when adjournment is scheduled.

MAJOR BILLS MOVING

Legislature has completed action on, and handed the governor, a tough new measure providing fines up to $200 and jail terms up to six months for disruptive activity on college campuses. Bill won't take effect until the start of the new school year.

Senate passed key bills to put sharp teeth in air and water pollution controls, require breath tests of suspected drunk drivers, require public agencies to give three days notice of their official meetings and provide tougher controls over teen-age drinking.

Other Senate bills would authorize payment of up to $5,000 for moving homes and businesses displaced in highway right-of-way condemnation proceedings, remove the $8,400 salary ceiling on which teachers contribute to retirement, establish a temporary Governor's Human Relations Committee, set up a new commission to regulate credit unions and request the U. S. Congress to ease restrictions on cable television.

Both houses have passed their own version of bills to permit schools to teach in a foreign language those students who have difficulty with English in elementary grades, to lower from two years to one year the minimum time between elections to adopt or abolish city sales taxes and to close some public roads on state-owned land held for use of the Texas Department of Corrections.

House approved creation of a new Texas Technological College of Medicine at Lubbock and voted to strike down immunity of government units from lawsuits for damages. Representatives gave strong support to a bill to give the Legislature the right to set Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Columbus Day and Veterans Day holidays on Mondays to conform to the federal holidays.

Another House bill sent to the Senate would permit the state's 14 courts of civil appeals to issue writs of habeas corpus in domestic-relations cases.

Senate has adopted an amended version of a House bill to permit a statewide cooperative network of local libraries. Governor Smith now has the bill.

BILLS RUNNETH OVER

Several education bills have been filed in the last few days. Rep. Guy Floyd of San Antonio wants the Attorney General's office to assist school districts threatened with the loss of Federal funds.

Rep. David Evans of San Antonio wants the state to contribute as much money to private school students as it does to public school students through the minimum Foundation School Program.

Rep. Jim Nugent filed a bill to prohibit the Legislature from enacting an individual state income tax.

Rep. Carlos Truan of Corpus Christi has a constitutional amendment to remove the ceiling on welfare payments.

Rep. Neal Solomon of Mount Vernon has a bill to allow the agriculture commissioner to prohibit the sale of any milk not meeting agriculture department standards.

Rep. David Allred of Wichita Falls introduced a one bill package prohibiting racing a car motor, sudden stops or starts, unnecessary horn-blowing, contesting speed, indecent language, fighting, throwing things, littering, loitering or intoxication on shopping center parking lots.

TAX TIME

House Speaker Gus Mutscher has been talking with legislators to see what sort of tax program they will support to pay for the new programs which they may pass. Governor Smith's tax program was introduced by Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas. It also puts a $10 "superfine" on all who violate the traffic laws where motion is involved.

COMMITTEES AT WORK

House State Affairs Committee got into the basic philosophies of rural life and business economics while considering a bill by Neal Solomon of Mt. Vernon. It would require telephone companies to maintain an office in every county seat they serve. Bill was sent to a subcommittee for further study. Rep. Jack Blanton of Carrollton chairs the subcommittee.

Senate State Affairs Committee acted favorably on Sen. Tom Creighton's bill to cut the time period between local elections on the optional City Sales tax from two years to one. It has gone on to the Senate floor.

Also reported favorably by the Senate committee and tentatively approved by the Senate, was creation of a temporary Governor's Committee on Human Relations. It was sponsored by a triumvirate of liberal senators. Sponsors, however, lacked the endorsement of Sen. Joe Bernal of San Antonio—a leading liberal. He introduced a measure calling for a permanent state organization on human relations.

Texas physicians who specialize in organ transplants teamed up to testify for two bills by Rep. Jack Ogg of Houston before a House Public Health Committee. Drs. Denton A. Cooley, Michael Debaquey and Robert Bloodwell spoke for an organ gift act which would allow donors or their next of kin to give parts of the body and another bill that would give the county medical examiner a chance to examine the organs prior to transplantation. Measures were sent to a subcommittee.

Drug bills are plentiful at committee meetings. Senate Jurispru-

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

I was out here walking over this Johnson grass farm inspecting things and planning my work for the months ahead, well I wasn't actually doing much planning, what I was doing was getting away from the noise of my house, noise like "other homes around here have washing machines, why can't this one?" or "this land is about as good as that across the fence, how come it doesn't make as much?" or "when are you going to fix that loose board in the back steps?" and so when I stumbled on a newspaper it was especially welcome. Since most problems can't be solved anyway, a smart man will worry about those furthest away from home.

According to an article in this paper, the latest thing in space work is a camera that takes four pictures at the same time from a satellite circling the earth, and it's so accurate it can actually detect the condition of crops, can tell what insects are bothering them, can reveal the moisture content of the soil, can even stop fish in lakes and oceans.

Some people call this progress but I call it scientific snooping. It's bad enough to have to explain the condition of my chops right around the house, without having to defend what's over the next fence. Committee delayed for two more weeks Sen. Charles Herring's bill to set a mandatory five-year sentence for anyone over 21 giving narcotics to a minor.

House Public Education Committee sent to subcommittee Rep. Joe Colman's bill to include drug education in public school curriculum.

Senate Jurisprudence Committee approved a bill requiring appeals from Liquor Control Board orders to be heard in the county affected.

House State Affairs Committee sent to subcommittee a controversial bill that would require Texas school districts to adopt "continuing contracts" for their teachers. It would not allow dismissal except for specific circumstances.

rise. While I guess I should be grateful for the scientists' sending up a 10-million-dollar satellite to tell me whether or not I need a rain, up to now I've always managed to find out on my own.

And as for locating fish, maybe in the middle of the Atlantic would be all right, but let some high-powered camera send back a message from space that fish are biting in a place I'd figured out for myself and was keeping quiet about, and I'd have more company than a new Governor with 1500 jobs to fill.

However, I don't suppose there's any way to stop progress, outside of Congress, and I was just wondering, if this camera can tell me what insects are bothering my crops, why don't the scientists train it on South Viet Nam and find out where those Viet Cong are shelling Saigon from?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Church Women United Extend Memberships To Five Churches

The Church Women United of Cameron have officially expanded from a two church membership (First Methodist and First Presbyterian) to a five church membership. They have also extended their field of concerns to include a project to help new families moving to Cameron.

Mrs. Virl Sinner, president of the group, commented on enthusiasm of the new council and said they hoped to grow to an eight church membership in the near future. She said all churches in the Cameron area had been invited to join.

New member churches are Abiding Savior Lutheran Church, Lights Chapel Baptist Church and All Saints Episcopal Church. Three members of the First Christian Church have joined as members-at-large and a representative of St. Monica's Catholic Church attended the first executive council meeting of the expanded CWU Friday.

The expansion success for CWU in Cameron followed the successful expansion of the Texas Council of Churches last month. The TCC grew to include the Catholic and Greek Orthodox churches.

Protestant churches who are members of the TCC are Methodist, Christian, Presbyterian, Lutheran Church in America, United Church of Christ, A.M.E., Episcopal, Christian Methodist Episcopal, Society of Friends (Quaker), Cumberland Presbyterian and the Church of the Brethren. Official observers to the Texas Council of Churches included the Jewish Faith, Lutherans (Americans and Missouri Synod) and Baptist (General Conference).

At the recent executive council meeting of CWU in Cameron, plans were made for the world-wide May Fellowship Day, Church World Service Clothing drive and the project to help families moving to Cameron. Plans are also underway to enlist the aid of teenagers of the various churches to collect for UNICEF in October.

Farmers who participate in the 1969 Wheat and Feed Grain Programs are being cautioned about the kind of land they intend to divert under such programs.

Payments for a farm will be reduced where the County Committee determines that the cropland set aside for diverted acres under the program is substantially less productive than the average cropland normally used to produce the crop.

In such a case, the farm operator will first be given an opportunity and urged to designate other land of at least average productivity for diversion under the program. If this is not done, program payments will be reduced in proportion to the lower yields which could reasonably be expected from the acreage diverted.

Any reduction indicated in the payment otherwise earned by the farmer would be subtracted, as applicable, from the farm diversion, the price-support, and the certificate payment -- in that order.

This does not apply to the 1969 Upland Cotton Program for there is no required diverted acreage for this program, but to be eligible for acreage credit for history and payment purposes, all acreage must be planted in a workmanlike manner and cared for with the expectation of producing a normal crop.

Growers are reminded that the sign-up for the 1969 Cotton, Wheat, and Feed Grain Programs will close Friday, March 21. Signing up is a necessary first step in qualifying for any program benefits.

Johnson Grass In Fields Can Spread Maize Mosaic Virus

Control of Johnson grass in and around your fields may be the most satisfactory means of control of the maize dwarf mosaic virus, says Dr. C. Wendell Horne, Extension plant pathologist at Texas A&M University.

MDMV overwinters in rhizomes of Johnson grass. As the young shoots emerge in the spring, aphids begin feeding and acquire the virus. They then transmit the virus to susceptible corn and grain sorghum.

Symptoms vary depending upon the type host plant and its stage of growth, said Horne. Most plants show a mild chlorotic mottle. Grain does not develop normally in virus infected plants. On corn only a few grains may form on the cob while grain sorghum heads may be practically sterile.

The virus can also be controlled by the use of resistant or tolerant hybrids, noted the pathologist. Some hybrids can tolerate infection quite well, while others are severely damaged. Losses will be dependent upon the percentage of infected plants and upon the susceptibility of the hybrid to the disease.

County Agent's Notes ...

Time To Re-Test For Brucellosis

By J. D. Moore

In March of 1965, cattle producers met at the Cameron Livestock Auction barn and agreed to go into a testing program to qualify the county as a modified certified brucellosis area. The group agreed to start testing in July of 1965. This was done and the county was certified as a modified certified area for a three period in 1966.

In case we forgot about the fine print at the bottom of the page, the program said we were to have another test run at the end of the three year period in order to re-certify in the program. This re-testing time has arrived.

Don't enter these figures in your permanent file, but our understanding is that we are to test approximately 15 to 20 percent of the cattle in this re-certification program. The Animal Health Commission is accepting a figure of 1966 herds in Miami County totaling 53,857 cattle. We are assuming this number represents those eligible for testing.

In this case, a check on about 10,772 cattle will be required in order to meet the re-certification program. Again, these statements are only general.

Several common questions are being asked: How many times will we be required to run this check test? The best answer we can find is quote, "We recognize that brucellosis can be eradicated and are convinced that it can be eradicated by 1975, but we must avoid complacency and procrastination and be willing to adapt to changing conditions as the program? According to a report from goal" Dr. W. C. Ray, chief Staff Veterinarian, U.S.D.A., 1968 proceedings of the National Brucellosis Committee.

COUNTY ELIMINATIONS

The annual Milam County 4-H Eliminations will be held on March 22 at 7 p.m. in Simon George Hall located in Cameron.

The purpose of this elimination is to let 4-H'ers show and tell how something is done. The contestants will show their own ideas and tell how each step will be accomplished so that a finished product will be the outcome.

Broiler Program

On March 21 at 4 p.m. at the courthouse in Cameron, those individuals of Milam County who signed up to grow broilers will receive their birds.

This is only the start of a project that will run for eight weeks. Each of you who receive broilers will have to work hard during this period if you are to be rewarded on May 17 with a blue ribbon.

Testing cattle numbers count toward this percentage goal? Here again we are getting into a question that will require an answer from the Animal Health Commission, but our understanding again is that these numbers will count with some reservations.

How many cattle have been tested through the M C T program? According to a report from Extension veterinarian, D. C. M. Patterson, through January 1969, this program has tested 11,514 head with 10,391 showing a negative test, only 192 reactors and 931 suspicious.

Back to the requirements to be met under the modified certified program quote, "whenever the percentage of cattle with positive reactions does not exceed one percent of those tested and that the number of herds does not exceed five percent of the total number, the regulations provide that such a county may be declared a "modified accredited Bang's disease-free area" for three years by the cooperating State and Federal officials in charge of the work, provided all infected herds are placed in quarantine", end quote.

If only the 192 reactors identified through the M C T testing program is measured against the 11,514 tested, we are in good shape. This is less than the required one percent figure. We do not have figures to show how many herds the above figures represent.

The purpose of this news release is to call attention to a local cattle problem identified by our veterinary medicine people. This problem has an economic effect on our highest agricultural income enterprise.

VOLUNTEERS ASKED
What can stockmen do to help carry out their responsibility in compliance with this program? We should have enough cattlemen who would cooperate in furnishing cattle for testing as a health check on their herd.

At the cattle meeting last week, John Beverly presented figures to show that when one cow in a herd fails to raise a calf, it takes the profit from 2 to 3 calves to pay for this loss.

Most cattlemen know their situation. Some have farming chores, some have easier herds to pen, etc. According to Dr. J. F. Sousses, veterinarian in charge, Milam County will not have difficulty in testing enough cows to qualify for this program.

Those who will volunteer their cattle for testing may contact the county agents office, your vocational agriculture teacher or live stock leaders in your community.

Mrs. Ladis Marek on Sunday were their daughters and families, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Morgan from Hillsboro and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Morgan of Cameron.

Fuchs Speaker At A & M Egg Clinic

Monroe Fuchs of the Ideal Poultry Breeding Farms at Cameron, will be one of the featured speakers at the 15th Annual Commercial Egg Clinic on March 26 at College Station.

Evaluations of the current egg trends will be shared by the people of the Texas egg industry at the meeting, according to Ben Wormli, Extension poultry specialist at Texas A&M University.

Several men noted for their contributions to the poultry industry will be featured at the clinic. Byron Clark, of the Ralston Purina Company of St. Louis, will discuss systems of growing pullets on wire. Ralph Baker, Extension poultry marketing specialist at Ohio State University, will present a talk on systems by which producers may market eggs.

The population control of rodents will be the topic of Richard Wetzel of the Fish and Wildlife Service. Peter Hunton, a geneticist with Shavers Poultry Breeding Farms of Ontario, Canada, will speak on the factors that contribute productive genetic inputs of layer performance.

Fuchs will talk on maximizing genetic disease resistance through management, and James T. Presnel, legal council for the Texas Poultry Federation, will discuss the progress of the current Texas Egg Legislation.

A meeting of the Texas Egg Council will conclude the clinic, Wormli said.

Rep. Kubiak Cites Local Leaders, Reports Busy Week For House

Friday was the last day for filing bills of major significance in the House, Rep. Dan Kubiak reported, and said that hearings-morning, afternoon and night, along with committee reports, are contributing to an ever growing daily calendar for legislators.

Commenting on his visit to the Cameron Chamber of Commerce banquet, Rep. Kubiak said, "Cameron is truly a progressive town under the leadership of such men as Mayor Perrin, Rev. J. E. Lafferty, Gene Smitherman, Frank Luecke, Narvie Caperton, Judge O. B. Harden and others."

Noting that Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has under consideration another inquiry by Gov. Smith on the legality of spending oil and gas bonuses, royalty and rental from submerged land which belongs to the School Land Board, Kubiak said unofficial estimates are that about $40 million might be available for the 1969-70 biennium if the Governor gets an affirmative answer from the Attorney General.

The Agriculture Committee meetings are making Tuesday breakfasts "difficult," the Representative said. "Several weeks ago we talked about 'rotten eggs' and this week it was 'bad pork.' This is hard on the constitution!"

A bill providing for teaching a course on crime and narcotics two hours each week for grades

6-12 was introduced by Rep. Gol-man of Dallas.

"The use of marijuana and narcotics has increased from two percent two years ago to an alarming 17 percent among our large cities in the state of Texas," Kubiak said. "We are blessed in Central Texas because we have good parents, teachers who care and youth who want to do that which is right," he added.

Tuesday Rep. Kubiak, along with several other House members were instrumental in stopping immediate passage of Rep. Cletus Davis' bill which "would have taken all local control away from our elected officials in the case of a potential emergency or disaster. I feel," Kubiak said, "that our local people should be in charge of our local situations and only when they cannot handle a given problem, should they ask others to intervene. I have a tremendous amount of confidence in deepening local responsibility in all that is undertaken."

Diann Tumlinson Is Slide Rule Awardee

Diann Tumlinson, Yoe High School senior, was named to receive the annual slide rule award from the Texas Chemical Council.

Award winners from 134 Texas high schools were selected by high school principals and science department heads on the basis of scholarship, imagination, and scientific aptitude.

Our Symbol

One of our most treasured relics is the Liberty Bell. It is so-called because it was rung on July 8, 1776 to summons the citizenry for the terse announcement that the Declaration of Independence had been adopted. Today, it remains the greatest symbol of a nation free from tyranny in government and intolerance in religion.

But one fact often overlooked is that when the historic bell was originally cast its makers turned to the Bible, to Leviticus, for the words inscribed around its contour: "Proclaim Liberty throughout the land unto all the inhabitants thereof." What a beginning! What a heritage! What a privilege to be a son or daughter of Freedom's Land. What a blessing to be an American.

How great is our Symbol!!!
